Tickets for the BGA 60th Rankine Dinner in honour of the 2020 Rankine Lecturer, Professor Stephan Jefferis, to be held at Imperial College London on Wednesday 18th March 2020, will be available for purchase in early January 2020.

An application form for tickets indicating your requirements will be e-mailed to BGA members and available to download from the BGA website at www.britishgeotech.org.uk by mid-December. This should be completed and returned to the BGA Executive at bga@ice.org.uk by 31st December 2019. Please note that the Dinner is often oversubscribed and a request does not guarantee that a place will be offered.

Places will be allocated in strict order of receipt of these forms and applicants notified of the outcome after 15th January 2020. In order to give as many members as possible the opportunity to join the BGA at this prestigious event, companies will be restricted to purchasing one table initially with the option of requesting a second table if demand allows. In the event of over-subscription applicants will be placed on a waiting list and advised as soon as possible if further places/corporate tables become available.

The cost remains at £90 per person including pre-dinner drinks, 3-course meal, wine at the table, and coffee to follow. Companies may purchase a maximum of 2 tables of 10 places each at a cost of £900 each depending on availability. It is not necessary to nominate guests unless they have special dietary or access requirements. The BGA is not registered for VAT.

Successful applicants will be provided with a private link to the ICE's online booking system and invited to book and pay for their tables/places by credit card within a nominated period. If you are not an ICE/BGA member you must register as a non-member before booking and paying for tickets online. Bookings are not secured until the credit card payment procedure has been completed. Places not paid for by the end of this nominated period will be released to individuals and companies requiring a second table on the waiting list, after which any remaining places will be released on the open market.

Please e-mail bga@ice.org.uk for further information.
